Who operates the rail line has bearing on tourist train

The final report on the feasibility of a steam train excursion was presented Thursday night to the Joint Committee on railway retention. Even though none of the members of the committee from either Victoria or Haliburton were able to make it through the fog to attend, the report was presented and accepted by technical staff.

The feasibility study indicated that the proposed steam train between Lindsay and Haliburton would make a marginal profit by the third year of operation.

Lee Sims, of the IBI Group, consultants from Toronto, outlined minor changes in the study from the draft copy and pointed out that more research had been done on the potential economic benefits of the steam train for the area.

Mr. Sims said that there were three major points of benefit for the communities involved. He said that the tourist train would attract an additional 26,000 visitors to the area.

This would mean an additional $350,000 flowing into the area for services such as accommodation and food. Mr. Sims added that when the multiplier factor was added, this would in effect mean an additional $600,000 for the area.

In addition, it was estimated that the train itself would represent an expenditure of $349,000 in the communities, in terms of direct effect for purchase of goods and services. This could also be multiplied to mean a direct expenditure of $600,000.

Thus he showed that the establishment of a steam excursion train could mean a direct economic benefit of $1.2 million.

In addition, the consultant pointed out that if the steam train were running, the rail line between Lindsay and Haliburton would have to be maintained. If this were the case, the line would also be available for freight shipments and could in the future have an economic impact on the area.

The biggest stumbling block to the establishment of a steam excursion would be capital costs for start-up. These were estimated at $1 million, including $600,000 to repair the rail line and bring it up to standard and to construct a station at the Lindsay terminus. Operating costs were estimated at $320,000 per year.

"It looks like it could break even after a couple of years when patronage increases", Mr. Sims said but cautioned, I don't think anyone is going to get rich."

"It is unrealistic to think it is going to be a big moneymaker with respect to paying off the operating costs, but there are other benefits which could justify getting provincial grant assistance for the program."

Estimates of capital and operating costs did not include any provision for possible grants to assist the project.

Mr. Sims added that the financial picture was based on the assumption that CN would be given permission to abandon the line. If the CTC did not allow CN to abandon the line, the capital and operating costs could be changed significantly.

Once the report is formally accepted by the Joint Railway Retention Committee copies of the feasibility study will be sent to the Ministry of Industry and Tourism and the Canadian Transport Commission.

1981 Mr. and Mrs. 1000 Lakes

CARNARVON — Two weeks ago the 1000 Lakes Bowlers Association held its annual Mr. and Mrs. 1000 Lakes tournament here. Sixteen teams from the area took part with Carnarvon taking the top four spots on the prize list. Leading the way for Carnarvon were Bob and Susan Robinson (above) of Minden, the 1981 champions.

Martin Lumber honors employee

"He is like a Florida orange: sweet, juicy, never bitter." This was the tribute paid by Whitney Martin, to retiring employee, William Plumley at a banquet held in his honour at Ye Olde Barn Restaurant recently.

In attendance with Bill and Hazel were their children: Francis, of Harcourt; Joan of Mississauga; Shirley of New Liskeard; Doris of Ennismore and Diane of Bancroft.

Mr. Plumley has been with the company longer than the present incorporated name has been in existence. Mr. Martin recalls first meeting Bill in 1936, and employing him on his farm. Later the following year he joined Martin Brothers Lumber Company and drove a truck for the company for $1.60 a day.

When the company changed to G. W. Martin in 1958, Bill and his truck were part of the deal. In the late '70s he was placed in charge of the chipping machine at Harcourt, and was as careful about the

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Trudeau twisting U.K.s words

In his customary clever and devious manner, Prime Minister Trudeau is claiming that any British resistance to passing his BNA package would constitute interference in Canadian affairs. He went so far as to suggest that unless the British parliament does as he says, it would be treating Canada as a colony and Britain would have to leave the Commonwealth.

He said we become indignant when France interferes in our internal affairs; we should become indignant when Britain does.

Don't believe a word of it.

What the British Parliamentarians are saying is that they have no right to be passing laws for Canada.

They would gladly send the BNA Act to Canada. It's probably a surprise to most of them to know that they have it. And they have enough trouble of their own without having our BNA controversy as well.

But Trudeau doesn't want that. He wants the British to send back the Act with a charter of rights and amending formula. He can't have these passed in Canada and so he wants the British to install them as law for him.

Naturally, the British balk, especially in view of massive Canadian opposition to Trudeau and of court challenges to the legality of his methods. The charter of rights, for example, is badly flawed. And there's the question of whether they have any right to be passing laws for Canada.

They do not want to interfere.

It's Trudeau who insists that they do.

Bancroft Gemboree receives CCDP grant for 1981 festival

BANCROFT — The Chamber of Commerce in Bancroft has been successful in obtaining a Canada Community Development Project grant to sponsor the annual Rockhound Gemboree. Hearing of Mr. Carl Bosiak's intention to retire after staging the show for 17 years, the Chamber felt it would be in the interest of the community to keep the annual event going.

As one of the main summer attractions of the area, the Gemboree draws several thousand people into the community. This year it will be located at the North Hastings Community Centre over the August civic holiday weekend and will follow much the same format as in other years with mineral displays, rock swaps, crystal specimens and amusement facilities.

Project workers hired under the grant are Karen Beales, Larry Johnson and Mary Moody. They will also be assisting in the "Boost Bancroft" campaign and other aspects of the Chamber's work in that community.

Council passed a resolution supporting the firm as revised from 17 lots to the 12. The property in question lies on Lot 30, Con. 7 in the Township of Minden.

Driver injured, charged after car hits embankment

MINDEN — OPP investigated three motor vehicle collisions in which one person was injured during the seven day period, Feb. 23—March 1.

On Saturday, Feb. 28th at 12:50 am, a car driven by George T. Bussey 29, of Toronto was northbound on Bobcaygeon Road in Minden, attempted a right turn onto Newcastle St. and drove headfirst into a high earth embankment.

Police have set damages at $4500 and Bussey was charged with careless driving and failing to report a collision forthwith. He was treated and released from hospital with minor injuries. PC Jarvis.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED —

At 1:15 am on Saturday, Feb. 28, Constable Mike Legge checked a car and its occupants in Haliburton village and discovered the new $12,000 sports car had been stolen in Toronto. The license plates had also been stolen from another vehicle.

Charged with possession of stolen property is William Ross Heaton 16, of Scarborough. The three other occupants were apparently unaware the car had been stolen and were not charged.

BREAK AND ENTER SUSPECT ARRESTED —

On Feb. 10, 1981 a 17 year old youth, Sean David Savage of no fixed address broke into a Little Britain residence where he stole some money and clothing and then proceeded north on a stolen snowmobile. Arriving at Eagle Lake, Savage broke into a cottage owned by Edward Gardiner of Lindsay where he lived for a week committing other thefts in the area.

Savage came to the attention of Minden OPP when he rode a motorcycle into Haliburton village and was checked. Because the motorcycle had not yet been reported as stolen Savage was released, but when a subsequent check was made with the owner, Ted Gardiner, a warrant for Savage was obtained.

However, by this time Savage had driven to Bracebridge, abandoned the motorcycle and hitchhiked to Toronto. Within two hours of being placed on the Police computer system, Savage was arrested by Oak Ridges OPP while hitch-hiking on Hwy. 400.

Charged with possession of stolen property and with Breach of Probation, Savage appeared in Lindsay Court on Feb. 26th and received a sentence of 18 months imprisonment. PC Al Bibby.

Midgets playoff hopes die,

Thornton eliminates Juveniles

The two big teams in Minden saw their season's come to an end on the weekend when the midgets lost to Sunderland 4-2 on Saturday at the Centre and the juveniles went down 6-0 to Thornton.

The midgets started the week off on the right foot, dropping Sunderland 7-4 in Sunderland. Andy Shapiera, Ivan Ingram and Kevin Hamilton each scored twice for the locals while Greg Austin had a single. However, they failed to win on home ice on Saturday and that loss left them on the sidelines.

In Minden Tuesday evening, Dollo's IGA Juveniles came up with their finest game yet, downing Thornton 2-1 and stayed alive in the best three of five playoff series. Bart Sedore scored an unassisted goal at the 24 mark of the first. Thornton tied it up of a 294 final game that gave them a plus 96 for the four game event.

Other winners were Brian and Elsie Henderson plus 83, Doug and Susan Robinson plus 71, Dave Bell and Flo Henderson plus 70, Bill McKay and Laura Fagan plus 47, Ira and Wanda Carter, plus 43, Dan Harding and Marlene Robinson plus 41, Muriel Peters and Beulah Cowan, plus 39, Keith and Aloma Johnson plus 39, Ed Cox and Cathy Darby, plus 25 and Wally and Isobel Clay, plus 20.

at 12:32 of the second and at 11:22 of the third, Shawn Silvers fired the winner from Kevin Shapiera and Les Booth.

However, on Thursday night in Thornton the juveniles just didn't have it as Thornton rolled over them 6-0. The juveniles will be holding their annual tournament on Saturday at the Centre at 8 am, when Minden meets Baysville. Also competing will be teams from Peterborough (3), Fenelon Falls, Cannington and Bobcaygeon.

Mainstream Canada

An unfair situation indeed

By W. Roger Worth

Bell Canada is again attempting to clobber Canada's small and medium-sized enterprises.

The company, which provides telephone service in most of Ontario and Quebec, is seeking a 30% increase in residential rates and a whopping 40% increase for businesses.

Rate increase approved by the Canadian Radio-Television Commission for this huge territory are generally used as bench marks for rate hikes in other provinces, so all Canadians will eventually be affected by the decision.

While the CRTC will have to decide whether Bell's overall request is justified, the telephone company can't seem to back away from an unfair policy that is costing independent businesses millions of dollars per year.

That policy: Bell already charges small and medium-sized enterprises more than three times the residential rate.

Now the company is seeking to extend the rate differential by increasing business rates 40%, vs. 30% for residential users.

In countries such as Sweden, Greece, and Norway, there is no rate differential. British businesses pay only 18% more than householders, and the rate differential in the U.S. is decidedly lower than the 200% - 300% or more charged in Canada.

At a rate hearing last spring, Bell sought a 23% increase for residential users, and 35% for businesses. Following objections from groups such as the 57,000-member Canadian Federation of Independent Business, the CRTC allowed a 13% increase for each group.

Instead of attempting to widen the gap between residential rates and those charged to small and medium-sized businesses, Bell should be moving in the opposite direction.

It's high time the CRTC took a long, hard look at this unfair situation.

Hydro's mini-stations harness water power

Ontario Hydro is planning to turn grandpa's old mill stream into a cheaper source of electrical power for remote communities currently dependent on expensive diesel-fuelled generators.

A small, pre-fabricated hydro-electric generating station called a Mini-Hydel is being tested at Wasdell Falls, an old hydro dam 150 miles north of Toronto on the Severn River.

The $1 million test program, which went into operation in December, will determine whether the Mini-Hydel is suitable for displacing existing diesel generators at remote northern communities. Electric generation is expensive in many of these communities because of fuel costs. Connecting them to the existing power grid would also be expensive because of distances and terrain.

Completely pre-fabricated, the Mini-Hydel doesn't require a small army of construction workers to assemble its few components to harness the power potential of a river- or a mill stream. Yet, it can produce up to 400 kilowatts of power, or enough energy to meet the demands of 160 homes.

Hydro-electric generators use the force of water falling from a higher to a lower level. However, contrary to the normal practice of making an expensive cut through the dam, the Wasdell Falls Mini-Hydel has a siphon system to draw water over the existing dam. This serves the dual purpose of reducing costs and minimizing construction. A similar installation is under construction at the community of Sultan, near Chapleau. When it comes into service this spring, it is expected the 150 kV generator will meet 100 per cent of Sultan's electrical demand about 90% of the time & the current diesel engines will be relegated to back-up roles.

Soon to be tapping the power resources of small Ontario rivers and mill streams for Ontario Hydro is a new pocket-size hydro-electric generator designed to provide cheaper electricity for remote communities. The new prefabricated and easily-installed generator, dubbed the Mini-Hydel, is shown above undergoing tests at Wasdell Falls, 150 miles north of Toronto on the Severn River.

and while singles went to Tom MacLeod, John Wells Gord Wood and John Ballantyne.

This was the final game in round robin playoff action with Bobcaygeon, Orono and Sunderland. Minden ended the series with a record of two wins, three

"Cooking with Jehane Benoit"

The month of March seems to have an annual note of sadness... too early for Spring, too late for skiing or other winter pleasures. Yet, who wants to give up the chalet with its country peace and beauty, filled with friendship and pleasurable moments.

Invite your friends for a lot of chitchat, maybe some jogging in the woods and a "no work casserole weekend" — prepared at home in the city — at mealtime at the chalet, warm up as needed.

Enjoy! Enjoy!

EASY SPEEDY SCALLOPED POTATOES

Serve with thinly sliced ready-cooked cold ham or roast pork. This casserole serves 6 and is easily doubled. It warms up beautifully in a 325°F. (160°C) or steamed over hot water.

- 1 can mushroom soup
- 1 can milk
- About 1 tsp. (5 mL) salt
- Pepper to taste
- 6 peeled and thinly sliced

HANDYMAN

SNOW REMOVAL
Repairs, renovations, carpentry, cement, etc. Any type of work. ALSO, chain-saw work and removal of unsafe trees. Call Lorne Bailey, 457-2793. (1)

potatoes
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
1 tbsp. (15 mL) butter
Heat soup and milk. Add salt and pepper.

In an ovenproof dish, make a layer of potatoes, pour some sauce over, top with a few slices of onion. Repeat layers until all is used. Dot with butter. Bake uncovered 1 hour, or until potatoes are tender (easily tested with the point of a knife), and top is golden brown.

SAUSAGE AND TOMATO CASSEROLE

Half a pound (250 g) of frankfurters, sliced an inch (2.5 cm) thick, can replace the pound (500 g) of pork sausages. Simply add them to the mixture without any browning. Cook for the same length of time.

- 1 cup (250 mL) bread cubes
- 1/4 cup (60 mL) butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion, chopped fine
- 1/4 cup (60 mL) brown sugar
- 1/2 tsp. (2 mL) basil or marjoram
- 1 lb. (500 g) pork sausages
- 1 can (28 oz - 796 mL) tomatoes

Brown the cubes of bread in the butter or margarine over medium low heat, until golden brown. Remove from pan, add the onion, stir, until soft and browned here and there. Add the brown sugar, basil or marjoram, salt and pepper to taste. Pour into a baking dish.

In the same pan, place the sausages, one next to the other, without any fat, brown over medium heat, shaking pan a few times so sausages turn and brown evenly. Add to tomato mixture, placing them here and there, and pushing them in the sauce.

Bake in a preheated 375°F. (190°C) oven, 30 to 40 minutes or until creamy and golden color here and there.

To taste, when reheating the casserole top with 1 cup (250 mL) shredded cheese of your choice.

Musings

"The Ascent of Adummim," known today as the "Ascent of Blood" (probably due to the red marl) is the steep pass on the road from Jericho to Jerusalem. This pass is notorious for robberies and murders and is the traditional spot of the inn in the parable of the Good Samaritan.

"And went to him, and bound up his wounds ... and brought him to an inn ..."
